Is this camp for you? With the success of the Brantford Children's Book Camp, the organizers have been approached by adults who would also like the benefit of mentoring and learning from successful professionals in the writing industry. Wilfred Laurier University offered to partner, providing space for both camps and encouraging adult participants. If you are over 16 years of age, a novice writer (or have aspirations to be one) and would like to learn in a peer to peer environment, this camp IS for you! Please join us!

You will spend four days writing, learning and chatting with peers, authors and publishing professionals. If this sounds like a dream opportunity, join us!
