Barriers to Recognition in Genocide Studies

- Dominant Definitions of Genocide: Inclusion of Ethnocide? (Bischoping & Fingerhut)
- Prototype-based conceptions of Genocide: Exclusivity of the Holocaust (Moshman; Churchill; Stannard)
- Paradigmatic theories of Genocide: Liberal vs. Post-liberal (Moses)
- Dismissal of Indigenous world views (Bischoping & Fingerhut; Moses)
- American Exceptionalism: History through lens of "transcendent purpose" (Chomsky, Churchill)

Raphael Lemkin's Definition of Genocide

"[Genocide is] a coordinated plan aimed at destruction of the essential foundations of the life of national groups so that these groups wither and die... (through) forced disintegration of political and social institutions, of the culture of the people, of their language, their national feelings and their religion...by wiping out all basis of personal security, liberty, health and dignity. When these means fail the machine gun can always be utilized as a last resort. "

Cataloguing and Classification of Marginalized topics

(Olson and Schlegl 1999).

- Treated as an exception to the presumed norm,
- physically ghettoized away from the materials with which they should be associated;
- depicted with an inappropriate structure that misrepresents the field;
- assigned biased terminology, often with pejorative overtones; or
- omitted altogether

Research Questions

- To what extent do the Library of Congress Subject Headings and classifications and their assignment accurately represent authorial intent for books concerning the genocides of Native North Americans?
- To what extent do these headings and classification numbers represent a barrier to discovery?
- What alternatives are available to the researcher?

Methods

- WorldCat searches: “Indians of North America” and title variations of Genocide, Ethnocide, Ethnic Cleansing, Holocaust, Extermination, Nazi, etc.
- Sample of 50 titles
- Recorded and compared subject heading treatment and classification
- Noted euphemisms and variation between U. S. and Canadian topics
- Noted call numbers
- Emphasizes feasibility of using LCSH in WorldCat to limit search to genocide in the United States

Assigning and Constructing Subject Headings (LCSH 2008)

H 180.

14. Objectivity:

“Avoid assigning headings that label topics or express personal value judgments...Consider the intent of the author...Follow stated intention of the author or publisher in such matters.”

69. We call upon Library and Archives Canada to:

- i. Fully adopt and implement the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the United Nations Joint-Orentlicher Principles, as related to Aboriginal peoples' inalienable right to know the truth about what happened and why, with regard to human rights violations committed against them in the residential schools [through history books].
- ii. Ensure that its record holdings related to residential schools are accessible to the public.

“The Right to Know ... is based on the inalienable right on the part of society at large to know the truth about past events and the circumstances that led to the perpetration of massive or systematic human rights violations, in order to prevent their recurrence in the future. In addition, it involves an obligation on the part of the State... to preserve collective memory from extinction and so to guard against the development of revisionist arguments.”
